LONDON LETTER.

[FROM OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENT.]

LONDON, Sept. 14, 1861. LONDON TO LET.

It is rather odd to walk about the great Metropolis just now, amongst the regions of the residences of our merchants, members and nobles. The streets in this part of London (so busy in the "season") are perfectly empty, and house after house with the shutters closed, indicating that the family is away, mixing with the gay and fashionable throng at our watering places, where lodging-house keepers and tradesmen are reaping a harvest, the like of which has not been known for years. The weather so magnificent, and the affairs of the nation so prosperous, all classes seem able to and desirous of enjoying the quiet and the breeze.

While the folks are away, we are trying to carry out sundry sanitary and other improvements, so as to make London more inviting, cheerful and healthy; but these movements are greatly to the annoyance of these who are compelled to remain, for the streets up? is not an enviable aspect of London; yet gas and water, and the sewers are all important. Notwithstanding its manufacture. Other trades are equally well houses and population, the City of the World Pleased. is also the healthiest city of the world. July last week's return showed the mortality of London to be below that experienced in other large cities. There is still a great waste of life, which might be avoided by still further sanitary improvements.

The value of land is something incredible, and may be reckoned at considerably more than £100,000 per acre. Thus, the Excise Office was sold at the rate of £88,000 an acre; the Indian House at the rate of £124,-000 per acre; some land, as approaches to New Westminster bridge, at £170,000 per acre, giving an average of £127,000 per

POST OFFICE SAVINGS BANKS.

The new Post Office Banking system comes into operation on Monday next, and is decidedly the most effective step that the Government of this country has ever yet taken for the creation and encouragement of an economical spirit among the poor. This system brings a bank close to every working man's door; it gives no trouble; requires no previous arrangement; nor any journey to a particular town. So numerous will these banks be, that on and after Monday every banks be, that on and after Monday every one wishing to open an account and make a deposit, its sure to pass one of them to and from his work every day. The year's accumulation may be as small as the poor man pleases, and he may put in a shilling at a time if likes. The self respect and control this measure will heget among our laboring classes is delightful to thing of. Nor is there any fear of a stinted, miserly spirit springing up. The banks simply supply a motive for passing by the gin shop, and will only absorb the small odds and ends of loose cash, and prevent its being squandered away, thus providing for a rainy day.

Board of Trade is in the practice of conterring medals of gold, silver and bronze, upon those persons who have saved, or tried to save, life at sea. The mint is consequently often employed in striking such modals.
One was struck last week, the inscription on which tells its own tale: "To Cordelia,
which tells its own tale: "To Cordelia,

One was struck last week, the inscription on which tells its own tale: "To Cordelia, widow of John McNeil Boyd, Captain R. N.; wreck of the Neptune, off Kingston, February 9, 1861."

the Kingdom. By some it is thought the rough measures will do no good to the cause of liberty, the enemies to which would have of liberty, the enemies to which would have daily decreased and are gradually dying away. The Bourbonists are making one last farewell attempt to re-unite Ferdinand—with what success need not be said. Still the movements have to be most narrowly watched. Ferdinand Francis issues long proclamations with all the pomp of a sovereign; but it is only the last flames of a fire nearly out, which has spread such desolution over poor, meak, but now rising Italy.

These reactionary movements interfere with the departure of the French troops, and indeed another regiment of intantry has been

These reactionary invenients interiere with the departure of the French troops, and indeed another regiment of infantry has been ordered to proceed to Rome for a time. The French troops which occupy the Papal States are composed of eight regiments of infantry and two battalions of Chasseurs a Pied. The cavalry is composed of two squadrons of hussars, the artillery of 5 batteries and the engineers of 2 companies. A comely military gathering. The operations of M. Mazzini are looked upon with curiosity and some concern, for the zeal of this clever leader of a party overtops his judgment, and it is much to be feared that dissension will spring up and the march of liberty be impeded. Mazzini has no faith in the upper and middle classes of his countrymen and contends that the revolution of Italy was to be made and is to be completed by the people no less than for the people. Any one with clear vision can see that the Any one with clear vision can see that the separation of fanatical democracy must end (if successful, which it cannot be) in perpetual confusion.

The anniversary of the entry of Garibaldi into Naples was celebrated at all the chief cities last week, with the utmost enthusiasm and with complete order. The name of that noble patriot continues to command the greatest respect and affection.

The Fine Arts Exhibition at Florence

The Fine Arts Exhibition at Florence will be opened by the King to-morrow. A simple instance of the immense importance of Italy pursuing a course of improvements, is shown by the fact that in many parts the produce and fruits of the earth are positively perishing because there are no roads through which to carry them to market."

PRANCE.

A striking proof of the increase of our international relations with France, is found in the fact that in 1851 the number of French exhibition was 1700 and the number of applications for space in the forthcoming Exhibition is 4.425. Although the treaty of commerce is not yet fully carried into effect, the working, up to the present time, is more favorable than even some of its warmest admirers antici-pated. Wholesale houses in the hardware consequence, to a serious extent.

Beyond rumors, and the contradiction of rumors, little has taken place in France during the last fortnight worthy of especial notice. The large Camp at Chalons will break up to-morrow, and on Monday, the troops, with the exception of those destined as a winter garrison for the camp, will begin to leave for their different destinations. to leave for their different destinations.

AMERICA.

We have given great dissatisfaction by our resolution to observe a strict neutrality, and it was predicted in many parts, that we should force the blockade, for the sake of cotton, but, if we were so disposed, what would be the use, for although reports give a good crop to the Southern States, yet they are so elevated with their military successes, that (it is stated) they intend to keep instead of trying to find a market.

But the Southerners are reckoning without their host when they rely on their superiority in quality. A little time will show. The interest with which we all look on is unabated. The impression is there will be no movement on the part of Gen. McClel-lan for some weeks to come, unless the Southerners are forced to make some decisive demonstration.

The institution of passports has been met here with shouts of laughter and ridicule; for while the motives which actuated the Washington Government in sanctioning this new measure of protection is apparent, yet it displays ignorance, for while passports stop harmless travelers, they are mere play things in the hands of conspirators! Mazzini and Orsini were never stopped by them, but tra-veled where they chose, and carried what they pleased. they pleased.

NEW ZEALAND:
Our last accounts from our noble Colony
f New Zealand are fair from satisfactory. Who does not remember the story of that chill, cold, stormy day, when one of the bravest of our vailors was lost, in his gallant attempt to save human life at the wreck of the Neptune. Graceful and proper as this act is, on the part of the Board of Trade, yet why not add to the worth and importance of the gift, honorable alike to those who give and the bereaved lady who takes, by making it with some publicity. Yet perhaps the bowed head would rather have received it in silence.

The ruffianly hands who here, at the command of the Papacy, endeavored to premote the reactionary movement, and perpetrated deeds at which humanity shudders, have deeds at which humanity shudders, have deed and superintended complete military operations. Grand Jury Question Again,

We alluded yesterday to a bill introduced into the House of Assembly to de away with Grand Juries in this Colony. The measure is so extremely dangerous to public liberty, that we cannot but allude to it again, with the hope that it may never be allowed to become a law. Already we believe a petition is being prepared to present to both branches of the legislature, to expunge the odious clauses from the Jury bill. A public meeting is also said to be on the tapis to give expression to public opinion on the subject. If our Obstructive Government should fail to listen to the conservative voice of the country, we are assured that means will not be wanting to send the objections to England, with fitting comments.

In the Governor's speech at the opening of the Legislature, he stated that a bill would be introduced to "accommodate the jury system to the ability of the Colony. We are, consequently, to infer that the present bill has the Executive sanction. Being a Government measure, we have naturally to hold the Government responsible, from the Governor down to the Assembly. Whether the Executive was or was not aware of the clause in the bill to abolish Grand Juries, having allowed his irresponsible minister to introduce what he intimated in his speech, he cannot but be held to a strict responsi bility for attempting to introduce un-English laws into this Colony. Neither he nor any one else can persuade the country that the abolition of Grand Juries is required to the grand that the supersuade the inverse of the policy of the chairman, By order of the chairman, Chieffy Street. "accommodate the jury system to the ability of the Colony." Grand Juries are not so often required as Pettit Juries. Neither are their duties so onerous. No comparison can be made between the two, to show that Grand Juries are too great a public burden for the ability of the Colony to bear. On the contrary, we are persuaded that the Colony would have to bear much more and much worse public burdens, if Grand Juries

Assizes, and to prevent an unscrupulous Crown Prosecutor from arraigning an innocent person for crime. Destroy this check and suspicion will be aroused at once as to the administration of justice. Every attempt that has been made to give Magistrates summary jurisdiction in the punishment of criminal offences has been regarded as an encroachment on trial by jury and the liberty of the people. But the attempt made here is to deny the people the benefit of a Grand Jury in cases where the highest crimes known to our laws are alleged. The English nation has always been exceedingly tender in the treatment of criminals; so tender indeed, that with the exception of the summary jurisdiction of Magistrates for offences, it has invariably made it a condition precedent to trial that twelve or twenty-four upright men should first hear whether the Magistrate was justified in sending a person up for trial or not. It is for the perpetuation of this check on those in authority that we contend, and our peculiar circumstances render it essential.

A well-known commentator on Blackstone says: "It is a matter of supreme concern to the country to beware of shaking the confidence of the humbler classes of society in the administration of criminal justice, by infringing their right to an open and fair trial by their equals, and placing them at the mercy of, it may be, an interested or prejudiced superior." If this will apply to the criminal summary jurisdiction of Magistrates, it will also apply where a Pettit Jury may be packed when there is no Grand Jury to step in and see whether just grounds ex ist for bringing a person to trial.

The subject was treated in a masterly manner by the learned lecturer, and called forth frequent bursts of applause. The language and delivery of the lectur were good; the incidents cited from history were well chosen; the deductions drawn were truthful, and their application to our times instructive. It was really a very good lecture, so much so, indeed, that the audience were almost entranced during its delivery. "Historic Hints" was a success highly creditable to the lecturer and the Association.

CANDIDATES - There being two vacancies to fill in the representation of Victoria Distriet, it is natural enough there should be a number of ambitious aspirants for the honor. Court of Assizes.

The Court met at 10 A. M. yesterday. An indictment against J. W. Barton for an assault was the first case called. The prisoner was out on bail, and did not appear to answer to the charge. Charles B. Brown was charged with assaulting Edward B. Wright, an officer, whilst in the execution of his duty. There was also a second count charging him with a common assault. The prisoner pleaded not guilty, and was defended by Mr. D. B. Ring, instructed by Mr. Dennes.

Believed B. Wright, sworn—I hold the office of jailer; I saw the prisoner on the 20th of August last, and told him to leave his cell, which he refused to do unless the superintendent ordered him. He placed himself at the back of the cell; I put my hand on his shoulder and told him he must go; he then said: "You —, if you lay your hand on me I will murder you." He then laid hold of my arm and tor my shirt. After a struggle he got outside the door and tried to shut me in. I prevented him, and held my pistol at his head and told him to go on. He went along the bassage and then wheeled half round, upon which, thinking he was going to assault me, I fired at him.

By the Jury—Did he attempt to strike you then?

thinking he was going to assault me, I fired at him.

By the Jury—Did he attempt to strike you then? Witness—No,I did not give him the chance. A pistol had been previously lost at a break of the chain-gang, and I thought he might have it concealed on him.

Cross-examined by Mr. Ring—Did not, to my knowledge, receive any message from the prisoner requesting that he might leave the cell. Did not notice that any nuisance had been committed there. The wound I received was a slight skin and flesh wound both. I did not go to a doctor but put pain-killer on it. Did not push the prisoner out, nor strike him at all. He was shot in the ear.

E. Levy, sworn—I am a police officer, and heard a scuffle in the passage leading to the cells the 20th of August. I saw the prisoner leaving the door and Wright with his pistol raised behind him. He turned round partially before Wright fixed at him. Did not see Wright push him out, but the prisoner had a forward impetus owing to coming down the steps.

This concluded the case for the pressention, and

This concluded the case for the prosecution, and Mr. Ring made an eloquent speech for the defence, calling the attention of the jury to the slight nature of Wright's injuries, and to the fact that the prisoner did not strike a single blow, although he prisoner did not strike a single thow, although he was fired on and nearly killed by the jailor.

The jury retired, and after a short absence returned with a verdict of guilty.

the Hydah tribe.

The jury found a verdict of manslaughter against the prisoner.

Another jury was then empanelled, and J. E. Gidney was indicted for stealing a quantity of gold dust and a nugget, the property of Griffith Roberts.

Mr. D. B. Ring defended the prisoner.

Griffith Roberts, sworn—[This witness gave evidence against the prisoner substantially the same as appeared in our issue of Monday.]

Mr. Ring was engaged cross-examining Roberts up to the adjournment of the Court.

The case will be continued this morning, at 10 o'clock, until which hour the Court adjourned.

PETTIT JURY .- In Mr. Cary's new Jury bill all statutes of the Imperial parliament are proposed to be repealed. Yet, in the same bill, no one will be allowed to sit on a jury except a British born or naturalized subject. Thus the tenderness of English law towards criminals is again endangered. For according to the existing law, an alien charged with a crime may, when brought up for trial, claim that half of the jury be composed of aliens. Under Mr. Cary's jury accommodation bill, they would be entirely confined to an English jury. Now we have full confidence in an English jury, yet we cannot but conclude that were an alien on trial, he would prefer to have some of his countrymen on the jury. As the bill now not escape. stands, it is an imputation against the integrity of aliens.

DEATH OF LIEUT. ROBSON, R. N.-We regret to have to announce the death of this popular officer, who expired yesterday moraing at the Naval Hospital, Esquimalt. From the time of the dreadful accident which happened to him, no hopes were entertained of his final recovery. The flags throughout the town were, out of respect to his memory, lowered to half-mast during the whole of yesterday. The funeral will take place at the Victoria burial ground on Thursday.

FIRE.—Yesterday morning, just as the Enterprise arrived at the Hudson Bay Company's wharf, the mainsail of the Otter, which was lying across the captain's office, was observed to be in a blaze. One of the sailors threw his coat over it, another extinguished it with water. It ignited from the stove-pipe. No serious damage was RICH CLAIM .- Three Frenchmen (miners) rrived here on Monday on the Otter, from Carihoo, who give an extraordinary account of the gold taken from their claim. Five of their partners-and there were eight in the claim-remain during the winter at Cariboo The sum taken out was $105,000. The three who arrived brought down the bags to back up their assertions.

REPAIRS .- Some alterations are being made in the jail. Two more cells are being erected—a bad sign, except there has hitherto been more than one occupant to a cell. A sentry box is being constructed, and some chevaux de frise put up to prevent the incorrigibles from escaping till the term of their state education is completed.

Both Pills and Ointment are accompanied by very clear and simple directions for using them.

Bad Legs, Bad Breasts, and Old Ulcers. This invaluable Ointment was never known to fall in the cure of any wound, any sore, or any ulcer, as can be proved by innumerable testimonials from persons who had been discharged from Hospitals as incurable, and yet by perseverance they have been made as sound as they were the day they were born, by this incomparable Ointment. For pimples, blotch, es, scald heads, and scoroutic humours, it is equally efficacious.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the

A Man who refused to have his Leg off.

"From the Kilrush Advertiser, June 2nd, 1860."

Benjaran Cox, Esquire, Magistrate, said in the Board Room at Kilrush, that he knew a man who had been in the Infirmary and was netually furned out as incurable, on his way home to Kilrush, he purchased at Eanis, Holloway's Pills and Ointment, for, us he said, it could not be worse with him. This man, said Mr. Cox, became by their use as sound and as healthy as any man in the room. These celebrated Pills and Ointment will cure any wound, sore, or ulcer, however long standing; if properly used according to the printed directions.

Gout and Rheumatism.

Gout and Rheumatism.

The essence of these diseases lie in fine blood, which has, floating through each vessel, the pain-giving poison, which irritates and inflames every fissue to comes in contact with and produces the hot, swolfen, elastic enlargement about the joints so characteristic of gouty diseases. The philosophy of cure consists in overcoming this depravity in the blood, which is rapidly purified by the use of the Pills. The Ointment, when rubbed upon the skin, penetrates the system through the pores, acts in unison with the Pills, and soon effects a cure.

Dropsy, Swollen Legs or Ankles. Dropsy, Swotten Legs of Ankles.

The various kinds of dropsies, whether windy or watery, arise from some obstruction to the free circulation though the blood vessels or Jupphatics, or depend on the inflamed state of some secreting surface. Holloway's remedies, of which the efficacy cannot be exaggerated, act directly upon the blood, the absorbents and secretions, with a power that no dropsy however inveterate, can long resist. They regulate the proper flow of blood to every organ, and purify it likewise.—they filter out everything that is morbid or indurtous—they there out everything that is morbid or indurtous—they there out everything that is morbid.
